GREENWICH JAPANESE SCHOOL ENGLISH NEWSLETTER

Reading a book about farm animals!

GJS students are working hard in preparation for this year's School Festival!

Every year, each student works on an English project to display for the event. Some examples of English projects are essays, books, and research reports!

Recently, one of the first grade classes has been studying about animals. We studied various animals' names and what each animal says. For example, a horse says "Neigh!" For school festival, they chose five animals to write about and wrote three sentences for each animal using what they had learned.

They are also working hard on learning common sight words, such as the, and, is, are, on, etc. as well as decoding CVC words. Keep up the good work!

Our annual Halloween party for 1st and 2nd graders is also coming up at the end of the month, and we're looking forward to it!
